Three Places Make Mystery Farm Number 77, Owned By Ned Regan

Mystery Farm Home Number 77 belongs to Ned Regan. It is located at Cheraw, on the east side of the railroad and facing the paved highway on the west side of the railroad.

Four people live at Mystery Farm Home Number 77. Mr. and Mrs. Ned Regan and Mr. and Mrs. Charles Robbins.

Mr. and Mrs. Regan work in Columbia at the Reliance plant, commuting every day. Charles Robbins is a senior at Columbia High School this year. Mrs. Robbins, formerly Miss Marvel Ann Regan, is keeping house. She likes to read and tunes in on WCJU quite a bit. She finished CHS last year.

Mrs. Robbins said there are two other places in addition to the fifteen acres where the house is. One forty is about two miles west of the house and is being cultivated.

The other forty is toward Pearl River, in the swamp. She said she did not know how much of this forty is under water, but that the men had gotten all of the cattle out except two head they failed to find. They are worried about these two because they figured they must have drowned.

The fifteen acres around the house are in pasture. There is a good red color to the clover in bloom just south of the house.

On the cultivated acres are grown cotton, corn and hay for the major crops.

Charles took some soil samples to school to be tested. Mrs. Robbins stated, so that proper fertilization could be given the growing crops.

Incidentally, Mrs. Robbins said this is Charles' first year to live on a farm. They were married last year on April 3. Charles does a lot of the tractor driving when he is home after school, she told us.

Charles played tackle on the CHS football team. He is planning to go to Pearl River Junior College next

The garden has been enlarged and there is a new fence around it that does not show in the picture of the house. The horse has been in the family fifteen years. Mrs. Robbins said, and they decided to keep it when they bought the tractor which now does practically all of the work.

Mr. Robbins and Mr. Regan like to hunt and fish. They take care of the garden, but Mrs. Robbins said she wasn't sure whether this would be classed as a hobby or a necessary job.

There is a deep freeze that is replenished with vegetables when they are fresh.

Mrs. Robbins likes flowers and spends quite a bit of time working in the flowers in the yard.

Mr. Robbins is a member of the North Columbia Baptist Church. Mrs. Robbins and Mr. and Mrs. Regan are members of the Hopewell Methodist church. Mrs. Regan was Miss Molly Bedwell before she and Mr. Regan were married on November 24, 1934.
