

EVERYBODY FAILED to identify Mystery Farm Number 89, carried for the first time in the May 15 issue of the Sunday Mirror as one of the aerial photographs being run as the Mystery Farm series in The Columbian-Progress and Sunday Mirror newspapers. When identified, the owner will be presented with the original, mounted photograph and the person identifying it will be given credit toward the $25 to be awarded the person who correctly identifies the highest number of photographs in the series.